

---

Vol. 1, No. 39, December 27, 2019

---

Christmas and all its merry frenzy is over and done with. Well...almost. There's still a flurry of activity amongst the land. Homes still abound with piles of presents that now need to find a home, decorations to be put away – eventually - and a feeling of...whew!

My part-time job (did you see the PART portion?) becomes NOT a part-time job during this holiday. My part-time job has me working some 9-10-11 hour days leaving me far behind with what my brain thought I could accomplish. But, I know that everyone else is crazy-busy too at this time of the year – so we'll leave this week's newsletter short with just a Happy New Year!

Stay tuned for lots of things in 2020. We have some new releases to share with you, new interviews from some wonderful authors – Nancy Bilyeau, Linore Burkard, Carolyn E. Cook, and more. Next week, January 3rd, the short stories that were submitted for the Flash Fiction Contest will be here. And on January 17th, the details for the next quarterly contest – along with three new picture prompts – will be published.

Trisha

texastrishafaye@yahoo.com

Get Pages of the Past delivered to your inbox every Friday!

Join us on Facebook: <https://www.facebook.com/groups/184527085517941/>